

Erik Johnson Joins The Warner Companies

The Warner Companies Sports Management has added MLBPA certified agent Erik Johnson as a team member. Erik brings a wealth of knowledge to The Warner Companies with over 10 years of experience as an MLBPA certified agent.

Erik's expertise is in contract negotiation at the Major League, MLB Draft and international levels. He secured the largest contract in Nippon Professional Baseball (Japan) history for a pitcher who had yet to pitch in the NPB. Erik will work closely with clients at all levels of contract negotiation, including free agency, arbitration and the draft.

Originally from Kansas City, Erik attended Southwest Baptist University where he graduated summa cum laude with his degree in Sports Management/Business. While at SBU, Erik participated in track and field where he garnered academic All-America honors for his work in the classroom and on the track. Erik lives with his wife, Taylor, and their two children just outside of Kansas City, MO.
